SPEAKER RANDALL MUSTERING HIS FORCES-THE ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL. ro BE HANDICAPPED.—[Special to the American].—Washington, February 22.—There meeracy. To-night the large-sized handful of malcontents who have all along favored filibustering or any plan to prevent the inauguration of Hayes held a long and exciting caucus in the Speaker's room at the INDICATIONS FOR To-DAY .- For the Capitol. Cautionary signals continue on the Midpeople. Then a motion was carried to offer dle Atlantic coast, and are ordered for in the House to-morrow a motion for a recess from 3:30 P. M. till 10 o'clock Saturday. Recruits for this army of fillbusterers have been vigorously drummed up to-day, and a sufficient number were present in caucus to-night to insure the carrying out of the programme, it being a fact that forty men and the Speaker can hold the House with dilatory motions. Randall leads this revolt in person. Among other prominent Democrats present to-night and assisting were Thompson, of Massachusetts; Morripleton, and Walling, of Ohio, and Field, of New York. The filibusterers are in earnest in the South, to which allusion has been and mean fight. VAULT-SUPREME COURT PRINTING-CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS -THE

The special committee of the House of Delegates-consisting of Messrs. Clay (chairman), Page, McCaull, Gibson, and McDaunald-after a laborious investigation and the examination of many persons and papers, yesterday submitted a report as to the mode of conducting business in the basement offices. The committee say, "in respect to the force employed in the office of Auditor of Public Accounts, it may appear too large; but when we consider the vast accumulation of business in that office, increased as it has been by changes in our system under the new Constitution, your committee is satisfied that the number could not properly be reduced. The salaries of the Auditor of Public Accounts and his clerks are as follows: Auditor, W. F. Taylor, $2,976; Clerk of Accounts, G. W. Munford, 81,986: two first clerks, A. A. Lorentz and W. R. very fine; and after the dismissal of the guests, contemplating the terrible remorse of her husband, begins to show it herself, and entirely original. At the close of the act she had an enthusiastic call. The sleepwalking scene was beautfully acted, under some difficulties. The incantation of the witches, which opens the fourth act, and that old familiar caldron and stew of ghosts, were done in the average way. The matinée to-day should be a grand success; the character of Meg Merilles is Miss Anderson's favorite one, and she certainly does it finely. To-night it will be repeated at Saturday night rates. .

CONTINUATION OF SALE .- The ladies of Dr. Hoge's church will continue their sale at the lecture-room all day to-day (Saturday). They have a great variety of housekeeping articles, and many very ornamental as well as useful. They have also a scene on the James river, painted by a Richmond ing at.

PRETTY PAINTINGS .- Miss Holt, a southern artist, now in this city, has on exhibition at John H. Tyler & Co.'s a number of portraits in oil. The drawing and coloring are pronounced fine, and in giving faithful likenesses of her subjects she has been very successful.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR .- The East-End So cial Ciub of Marshall Ward, composed of young gentlemen of Church and Union Hills, gave a "social" night before last at the Marshall Ward Club-House, corner of Twenty-eighth and Franklin streets. About one hundred couples were present, and everything passed off to the satisfaction of the rapid building up of a paying business; attorney, at his own costs, such costs to be those who had charge of the arrangements of the there is such a thing as injudicious advertising, which is a waste of money. > A TREAT IN STORE.—The many admirers of the popular readings by Professor J. Willoughby Reade will be pleased to see by advertisements in our columns that by special request be will give two entertainments next week. His engagement in Norfolk and Portsmouth lasted over six weeks and was a great success. The pieces selected are all entirely new and well worthy of the attendance of all lovers of good reading. The humorous part of the programme will commend itself to all.

DR. TAYLOR'S ART EXHIBITION .- The weather was so rainy last night that Dr. Taylor concluded to postpone his entertainment for the benefit of the Broad-Street Methodist church (a)though a number of persons were present) until Monday night.

WEATHER REPORT.

THE WEATHER YESTERDAY Was raw, rainy,

[Special dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

WASHINGTON, February 22 .- The movement to build up a white Republican party prosecuted by some of the leading men of the Republican party who hold the closest relations to Governor Hayes. There is now no doubt that immediately after the election overtures were made to prominent southern Democrats, in which it was plainly indicated that in the event of Hayes's accession to the presidency the Federal patronage in the South would be placed at their disposal, if in return any guarantee was afforded that the Republican administration would be supported and the white vote divided. These overtures received little if any encouragement from those to whom they were The session of Congress came on, it is not likely that such a one can be found. A very prominent Democratic senator was approached by several Republican senators, who said to him that Hayes desired to extend the olive-branch to the South, and, said they, "What is it you southern people want?" The senator replied: "We want none of your Cabinet positions or big offices, but we want you to take your feet from off our necks-to treat us as equals-to show ** amounts on REAL ESTATE, from $500 to that you have some confidence in us. But it is said that in the distribution of the local offices in the South, Governor Hayes is determined to appoint good men, even if he has to take red-hot Democrats, and it is certain that in most localities in the South one of these things must follow the other.
